

Clare Hasler-Lewis, PhD, MBA

Dr. Clare Hasler-Lewis has been the founding executive director of the Robert Mondavi Institute for Wine and Food Science at the University of California, Davis since 2004. Dr. Hasler-Lewis is an internationally recognized authority on functional foods. From 1992-2000, she served as the founding director of the Functional Foods for Health Program at the University of Illinois (Urbana-Champaign and Chicago campuses). Dr. Hasler-Lewis trained as a post-doctoral fellow at the National Cancer Institute, National Institutes of Health. She holds a dual PhD in environmental toxicology and human nutrition from Michigan State University and an MS in nutrition science from Penn State University. She also earned an MBA from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Dr. Hasler has published more than 60 research and position papers, invited reviews, book chapters and bulletins and has given hundreds of lectures on diet and health in more than 20 countries. Since 2005 she has served on the Board of Directors of Chiquita Brands International, Inc. and also chairs the Food Safety, Technology and Sustainability Committee.